

Workshop teaches how to 'stabilize' shoreline

Many lakefront landowners have noticed their yards slowly disappearing into the lake. The Scott Soil and Water Conservation District is offering a "Stabilize Your Shoreline" workshop to help them stop this phenomenon.

The free workshop is designed for Scott County residents who have a shoreline on their property and want to protect it. Without a buffer between the lawn and shoreline, wave action and ice heaves erode banks, causing the shoreline to shrink.

The workshop is set for 6:30 to 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 6 at Spring Lake Town Hall, 20381 Fairlawn Ave., Prior Lake. To attend, register at www.scottswcd.org or call 952-492-5425.

SUBMITTED PHOTO

Native plants help to restore this shoreline.